

Peckham Library

Canada Water Library

Camberwell Library

John Harvard Library

AYLESBURYNOW

Southwark Council: Investing in new libraries

You may already know that Southwark Council sees libraries as a top priority for the borough. New libraries have recently opened in Canada Water and Camberwell, and existing libraries have also undergone extensive refurbishment.

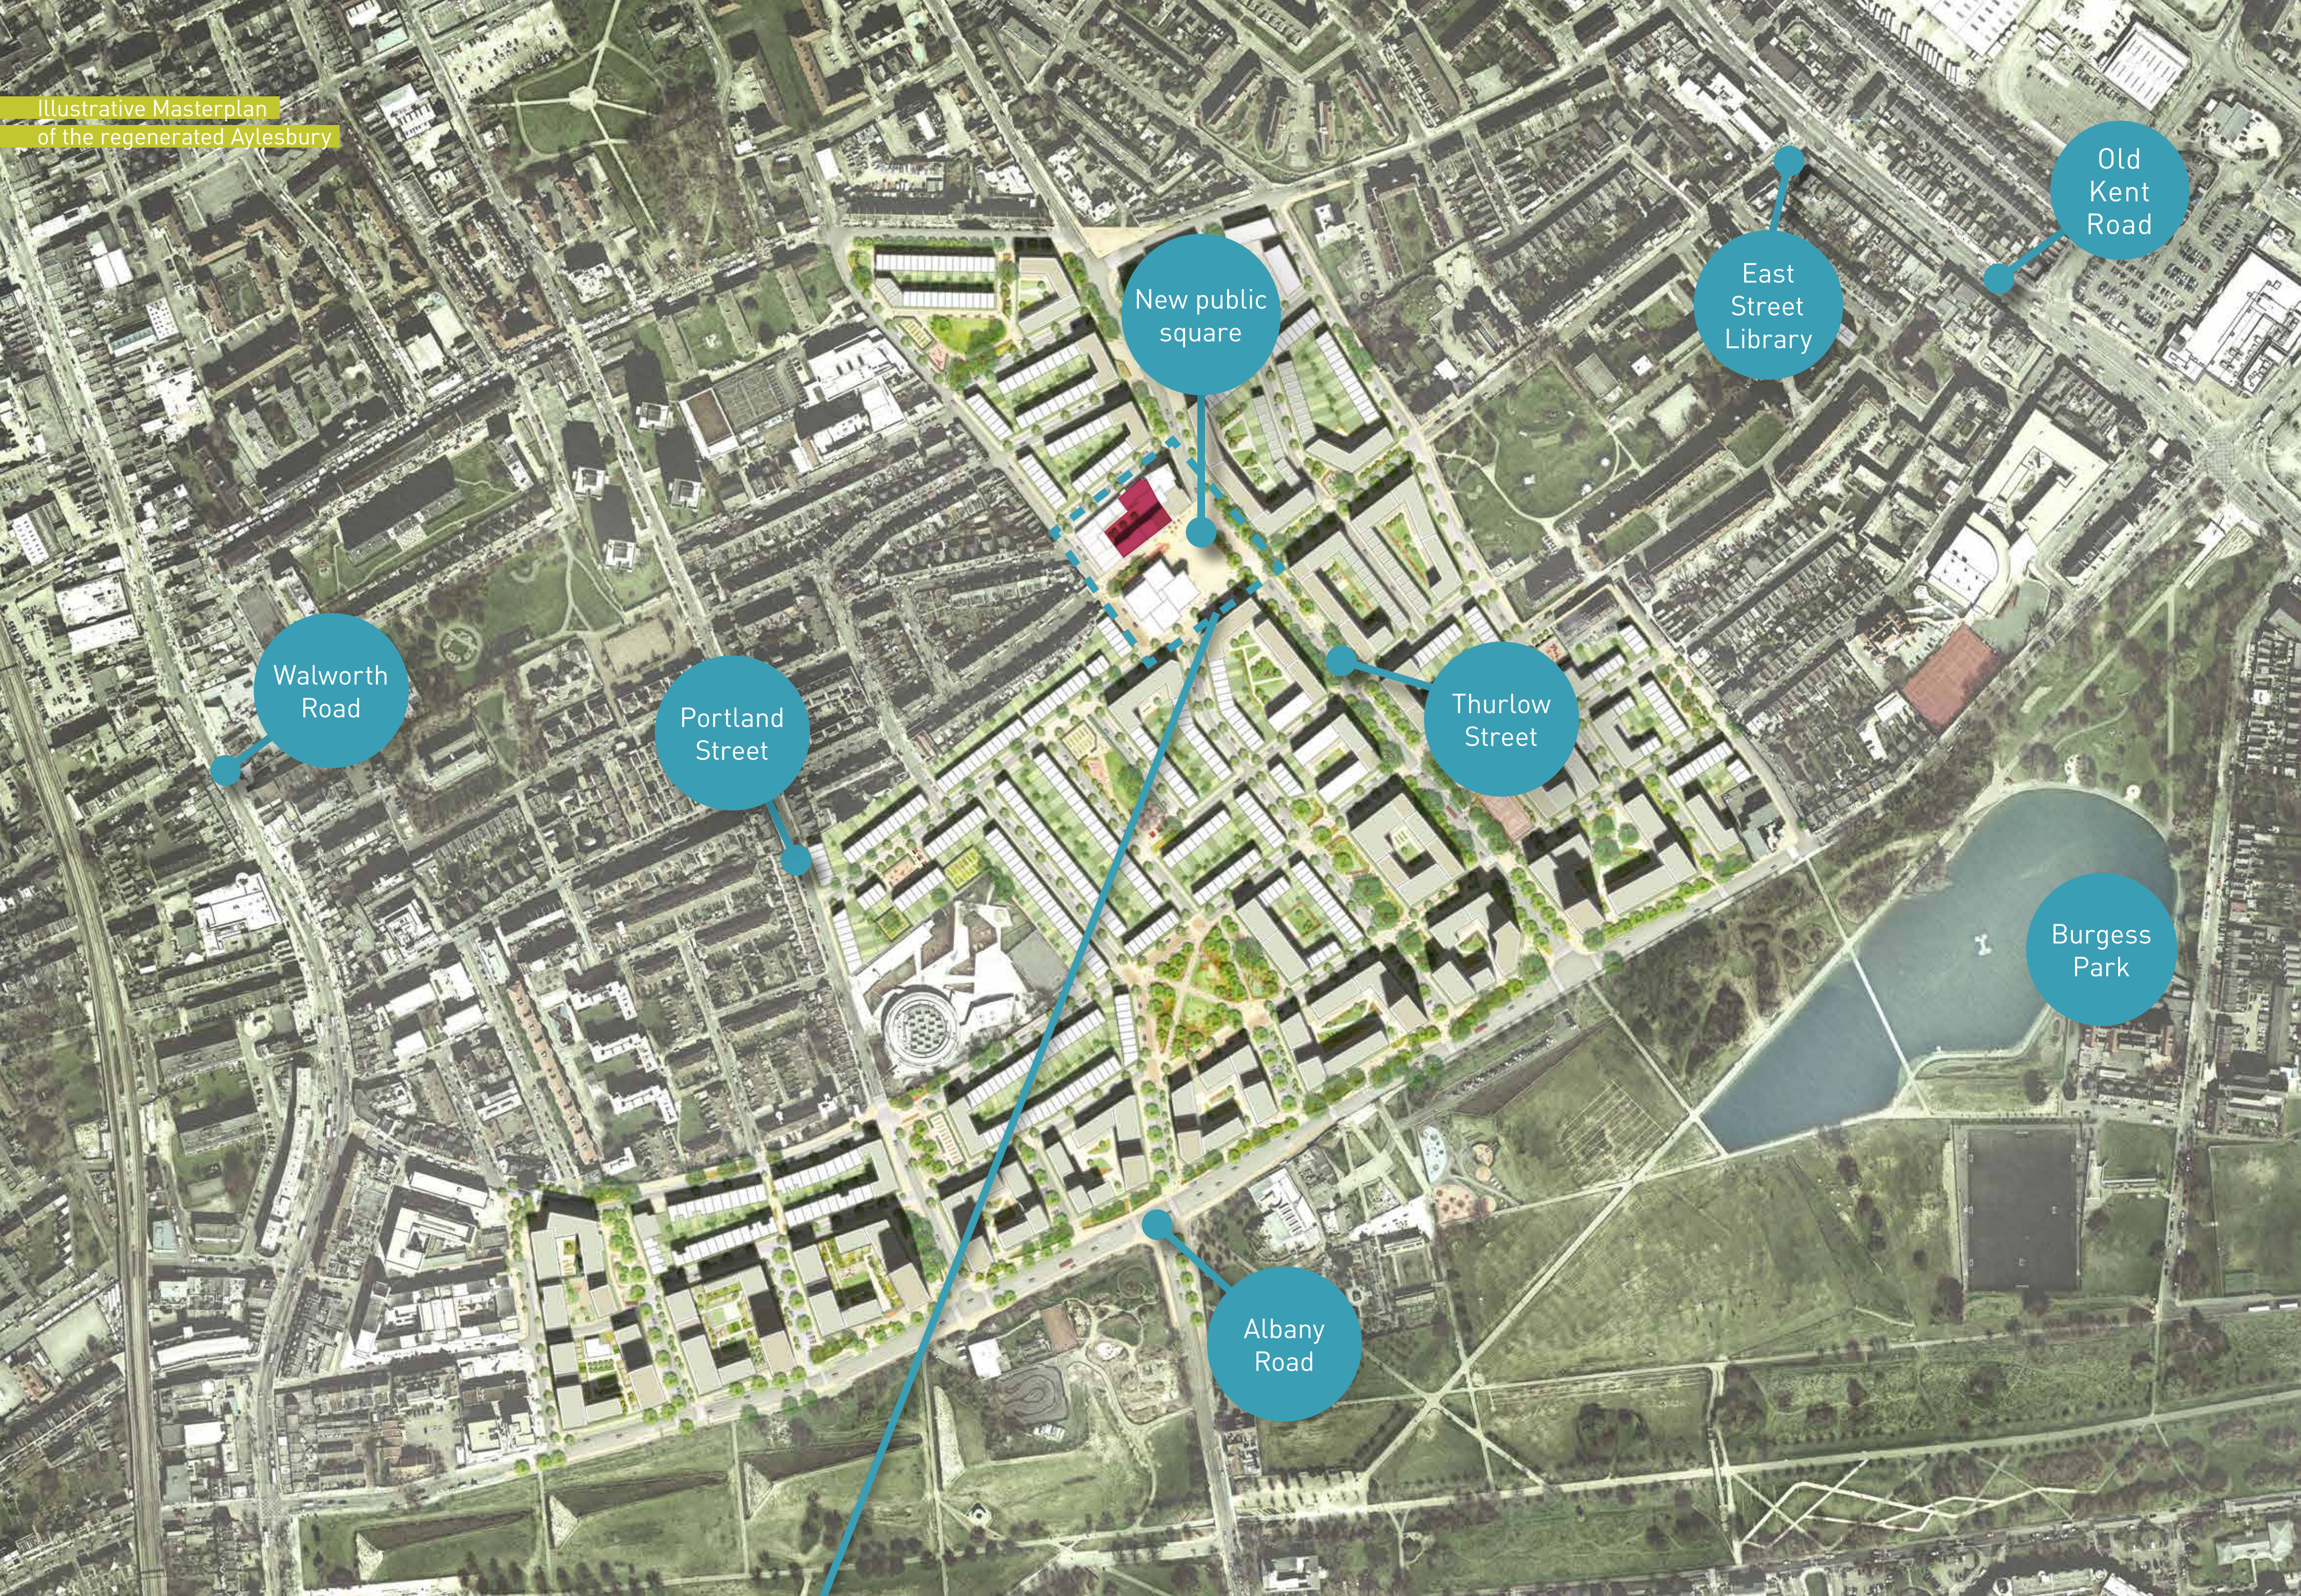

With Notting Hill Housing, Southwark Council plans to build a new library as part of the regeneration of the Aylesbury Estate, to replace the existing library at East Street.

East Street library will remain open until the new library service is open to the public.

Notting Hill Housing

A new public square: An Introduction

The regeneration of the Aylesbury Estate will provide around 3,500 new homes along with a network of green spaces, new shops, work space and other new public facilities.

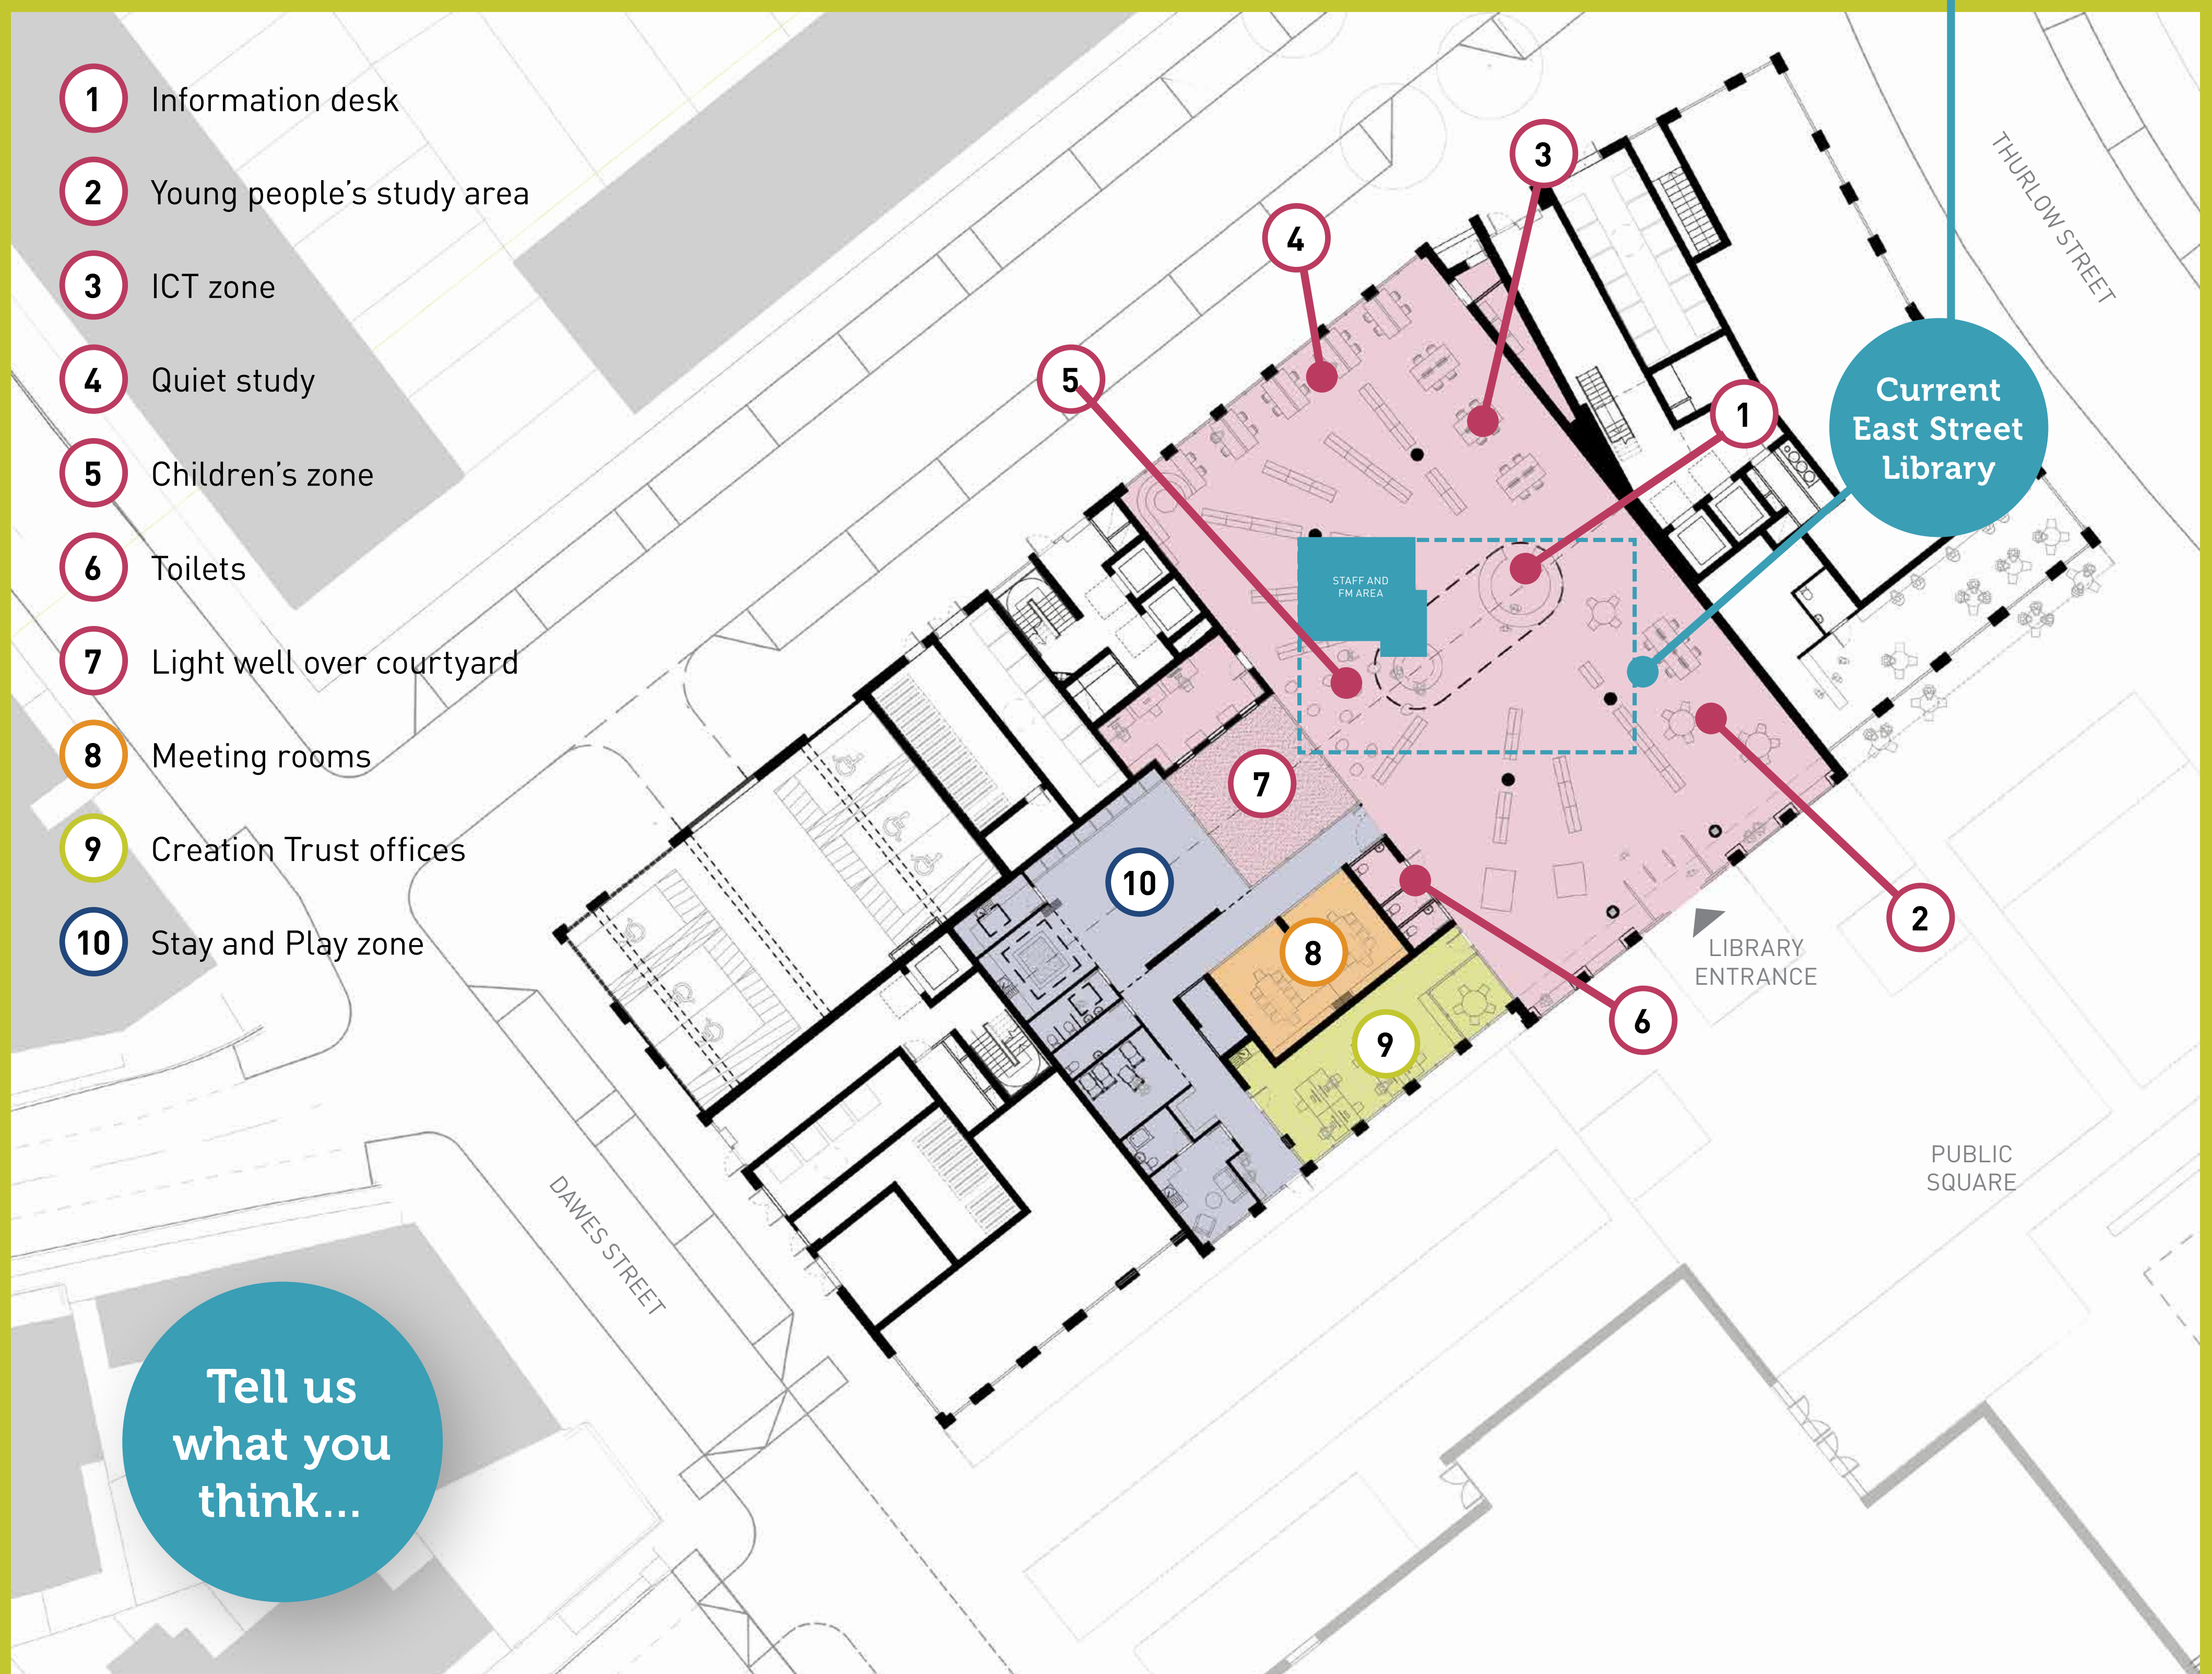

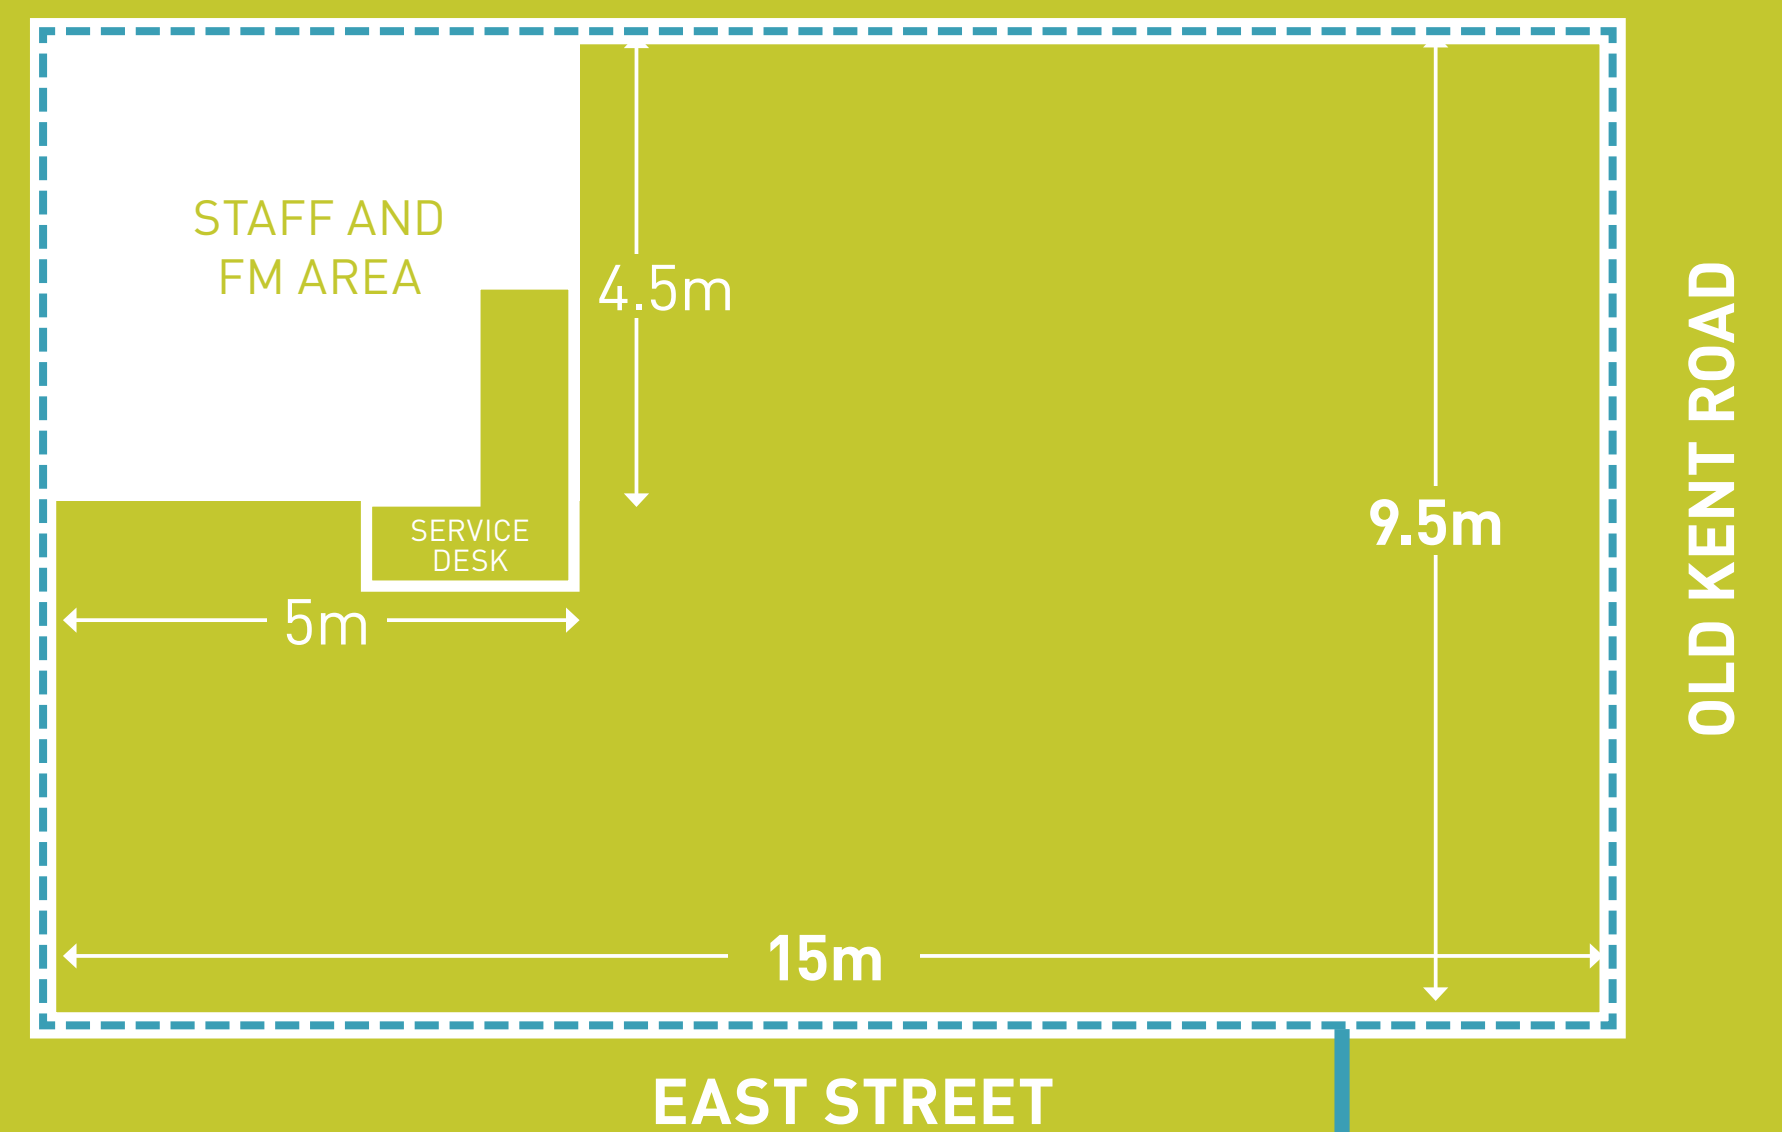

One of the first sites to be developed is a new public square, which will offer a new health centre, early years nursery, shops, offices and new homes for social rent, shared ownership and private sale.

A new library will form a key part of the new public square.

The new library: Space and layout

The new library will be more spacious than the current East Street library, and incorporate these community facilities:

- Stay and Play zone
- Improved ICT
- Study space
- Meeting rooms available for hire by community groups
- Office space for Creation Trust

Artist's impression
of the new library entrance

Artist's impression
of the new library interior

Artist's impression
of the new library interior

Tell us
what you think...

Inside the new library

Give us feedback on the plans for the new Aylesbury library:

- What facilities do you think the new library needs – have we got it right?
- How could our proposals be improved?
- How do you think you might use your new library?

Artist's impression of the new public square showing the library centre back

What next?

We will use your feedback, to inform the development of the plans for the new library and public square.

Planning submission submitted
End of 2015

Work starts on the new public square
2016

New library complete
End of 2018

Resident open events

Saturday 26 September Saturday 17 October
12pm - 4pm 12pm - 4pm

Tykes Corner, Unit 8 SE17 2UZ
Children's activities and refreshments provided

For more information please contact us on:

Call us
020 8357 4866

Email us
aylesbury@nhhg.org.uk

Visit our website
aylesburynow.london

AYLESBURYNOW

